

GAUDI VE MOMPOU COME TOGETHER WITH
“THE SOUND OF LIGHT” EXHIBITION
AT KADİR HAS UNIVERSITY

Architect Antoni Gaudi (1852-1926) and composer Frederic Mompou (1893-1987) come together at “The Sound of Light” exhibition arranged by Kadir Has University.

This unique and interdisciplinary artistic offering, which centers on the figures of Antoni Gaudí (1852-1926) and Frederic Mompou (1893-1987), consists of an exhibition of large scale photographs, a music concert with digitally processed images and a series of lecture and workshops that reflect on the symbolic and spiritual register of these two geniuses of Catalan and universal art.

As part of the activity, an exhibition of large scale photographs of Gaudi’s work, a piano concert of Mompou’s music with digitally processed images and a series of lecture and workshops that reflect on the symbolic and spiritual register of these two geniuses of Catalan and universal art will take place. The theme of the exhibition is based on a subtle dialogue between Antoni Gaudí's architecture and the music of Frederic Mompou, enticing us to contemplate and understand the meaning of art.

The format of the exhibition offers a broad and detailed look at the spiritual, artistic and technical dimensions of Gaudí's architecture and Mompou's music. The exhibition, from a holistic, suggestive and educational perspective, reflects both artistic and expression.

Presented for the first time in 2002 in Spain, it started its tour of Latin America in 2003. The tour was organized by both the Spanish Ministry for Foreign Affairs, through its embassies and cultural centers, and also the Agency for International Cooperation, in coordination with museums, concert halls and American universities.
